No bias – Just facts

2018

Our 3rd year of service to the greater Crozet community

Sanjay Suchak, (sanjay@virginia.edu) took this picture using an ultrawide-angle lens allowing for a photo of the west side of the University of Virginia's iconic Rotunda that is normally not seen – or at least not in a single view. An ultrawide lens compresses what the eye cannot take in at once into a shot that we can, giving a new perspective on a familiar building – and once again proving that the Rotunda has no bad sides.

Tomorrow is the day when our votes will have a great impact on the future of this country

· Voters may visit their local voter registration office during regular business hours through today's deadline to vote absentee in-person.

The last chance to vote in this year's mid-term election occurs tomorrow when you can visit your local polling place.

The Election Day forecast is for showers and a thunderstorm possibility. The National Weather Service predicts an 80% chance of precipitation with new rainfall amounts between three quarters and one inch possible compounded by a southwest wind from 5 to 14 mph, with gusts as high as 21 mph.

Rain gear and an umbrella could be very useful for the dash from your vehicle to the poll and even more useful if you have to stand in line outside.

Voters can find more information about the Nov. 6 General Election at Virginia Department of Elections Citizen Portal, vote.virginia.gov.

The polls are open from 6 a.m. until 7 p.m. If you are in line by 7 p.m. will be able to vote. There are 2,441 precincts in the Commonwealth. You can find your polling location by visiting the Department of Elections Citizen Portal at: vote.virginia.gov.

As of Oct. 29, 5,667,787 Virginians had registered to vote in the Nov. 6, 2018 election. (That number will change as mailed registration applications that have not yet been received but were postmarked by the deadline, Oct. 15, are processed.

Voter registration and turnout in 2015 shows that 5,196,436 registered to vote and 1,509,864 actually voted. In 2016 5,529,742 registered to vote and 3,984,631 actually voted. In 2017 5,489,530 registered to vote and 2,612,309 actually voted. The year 2016 had the largest registration and the largest total voting representing a 6.41% change from 2015.

A winter brews festival is coming to town

The Crozet Winter Brews Festival, a celebration of dark beers from Virginia brewers, will take place December 8, 2018 at Claudius Crozet Park

Taking a cue from the cooler weather and shorter days, the First Annual Crozet Winter Brews Festival will feature Virginia breweries sampling their porters, stouts, and other darker seasonal brews. With both well-known and smaller breweries in attendance, the Festival will offer an exciting tasting experience for dark beer connoisseurs. There will be food trucks, live music, and other entertainment and festivities. A ballot will be provided for visitors to vote on the sampled beers in a friendly yet cutthroat competition resulting in the (soon-to-be) coveted Claudius Awards, bestowed for individual divisions and Best in Show.

"The Claudius Crozet Park Board has discussed holding a beer Festival for a while," says Park Board President Kim Guenther, "But we wanted to find a way to make it stand a part from all the other beer fests in the area. Setting the date in December and focusing on dark beers seemed like a way to make this event truly unique." All proceeds from the Festival will directly support Crozet Park, a non-profit Park owned and operated by the community of Crozet, and its mission of affordable recreation for all.

This is yet another exciting picture of the fall season taken by Ginger Parker in Sugar Hollow.

This fall picture was taken on Saturday and illustrates the lack of brilliant color of the foliage this year due to moderate temperatures and early falling of the leaves.

This exciting picture of an Eagle and nest was taken recently in Sugar Hollow by Ginger Parker.

first blockbuster movie with an almost-all black cast, and also shows strong, feminist characters in the lead as warriors. It's got a lot of action without a lot of gore or gratuitous violence, and though it depicts a futuristic utopian society, it also pays homage to a variety of African indigenous people and tribes. AND it's just a really great film. Fun fact: the new graphic novel adaptation was written by renowned writer Ta-Nehisi Coates.

James Malloy

Beloved husband, dad, grandfather, brother, uncle, and friend, James Malloy, 80, of Crozet, Virginia, died on October 21, 2018.

Jim is survived by his wife, Louise; daughter, Kathleen Malloy; son, Tuck Malloy; daughter, Megan (Christian) Malloy-Moran; daughter, Amy (Tom) Takesian; son, Tim (Molly) Malloy; daughter, Carolyn (Rick) Basilio; son, John (Brea) Malloy; and 15 grandchildren, Adam, Ryan, Kaity, Finn, Caleb, Jonah, Abby, Barrett, Mac, Tristen, Lauren, Charlotte, Ricky, Owen, and Leah.

He is also survived by his brother, Tom; sister Harriett Flynn, and many devoted nieces, nephews and lifelong friends. He was preceded in death by his brother, Joseph. Jim grew up in Trenton, New Jersey, and received a Bachelor of Science degree from Lafayette College and a Master's Degree in Civil Engineering from Pennsylvania State University. Armed with a good education and a loving wife, he headed to Charlottesville to begin his career and shortly after arriving co-founded Makco, Inc.

After his retirement from Makco, Jim stayed busy having long lunches with good friends, tending to the garden and yard of his White Hall home and visiting his children and grandchildren. An avid gardener and fisherman, Jim was never happier than when picking green beans or casting a fishing line. He had a great sense of humor and laughed so hard at his own jokes that sometimes he couldn't even finish them. He loved long walks, trips to the beach, celebrating with friends, pretzels with butter, marathon trick or treating and UVA sports. As a successful businessman, Jim prided himself on being able to send all seven of his children to "any college they could get into" and wore their respective college t-shirts with great pride. His gentle spirit and sense of humor live on in his children and grandchildren.

Visitation will be held from 5 until 7 p.m. at Teague Funeral Home in Charlottesville, on Friday, November 9, 2018, and on Saturday, November 10, 2018, from 9:30 until 10 a.m. at The Church of the Incarnation.

A Celebration of Life Mass will be held at 10 a.m. Burial will be held at Monticello Memorial Gardens. In lieu of flowers, please donate to your favorite charity in Jim's memory.

Peggy Mae (Mawyer) Pugh

Peggy Mae (Mawyer) Pugh, 83, passed away on Friday, November 2, 2018, at her residence. She was born on March 9, 1935, in Virginia, daughter of the late Grover S. and Cora (Kirby) Mawyer.

Mrs. Pugh was an active member of Mt. Ed Baptist Church, where she was known for her great cooking. She graduated from Greenwood High School and retired from CenturyLink, formerly Centel Corporation with more than twenty years of service as a supervisor and in customer service. In the last years prior to retirement, she served her company on a special team traveling to Illinois, Nebraska, and Nevada.

After retirement, she continued to maintain relationships with friends from high school and from CenturyLink and kept herself busy working various jobs and being active in her church. In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her son, Dale F. Pugh; and a brother, Grover S. Mawyer Jr. Surviving is her daughter, Karen Kirk (Michael Furber) of St. Cloud, Fla.; two grandchildren, Dustin Ryan Kirk and Paxton Allen Kirk, both of Earlysville; two brothers, Daniel S. Mawyer (Jackie) of Batesville and Jerry Mawyer (Luann Rae) of Waynesboro; a special cousin, Joan Collins of Charlottesville; and numerous extended family and many loving friends.

The family would like to extend a special "Thank you" to the caring team at Legacy Hospice for their kindness and professionalism.

A Celebration of Life will be held 11 a.m. Saturday, November 10, 2018, at Mt. Ed Baptist Church, 1606 Craigs Store Road, Afton, VA 22920 by Pastor Ron Nickell. A memorial luncheon will immediately follow the service. Teague Funeral Service, 2260 Ivy Road, Charlottesville is handling the arrangements. Online condolences may be expressed at www.teaguefuneralhome.com.
